Grimm Collections utilized Mr. W. Tyler Moore for a very complicated matter of litigation regarding non-payment of freight invoices to one of our clients local to the Houston area. I've worked with many attorneys throughout the United States on many litigation matters and the biggest deficiencies are lack of industry knowledge and poor communication/follow up. With all of the complications in our case, neither of these issues were true with Mr. Moore's firm. In fact, his office went out of their way to make sure we were kept in the loop with everything that was taking place with our case. Tyler never guaranteed results, he only ensured due diligence and effort. Mr. Moore delivered, with full satisfaction, everything he was contracted to do and then some. He was successful in winning our case and very aggressive with the defendant's negligence of making the agreed payments when they started to default. Tyler also took every step possible to make sure that I, or my client, didn't have to go to the court throughout the process saving us time and costs. I would encourage anyone considering litigation within Tyler's general area of operation to contact his office.
